

Geology of the Golden Gate and Marin Headlands

Learn the 160 million year story that underlies the Golden Gate National Recreation Area. From ancient hotspots, seamounts and subduction zones to roaring glacial rivers and drifting sands, see how geology has shaped the park and provided habitat for its diverse biota in this illustrated presentation.

Presented by Will Elder

Thursday, November 16
12-1 p.m.
Fort Cronkhite Bldg. 1050